

Environmental management - integral part of sustainable development concept

Author Mădălina Albu

N/A

Abstract:

Management system of environment is a component of general management system which includes organization structure, planning activity, responsibilities, the practices, procedures, processes and the resources for elaborating, implementing, realization, analysis and actualization of environmental politics. This paper presented details of the integrative-ecologic management plans used in oil industry.

Keywords: environmental management, sustainable development

JEL codes:: P28, Q01